Dr. Marla Weston

Dr. Marla J. Weston dedicated her career to improving the professional practice environment for nurses and the quality of care for patients. She currently focuses on assisting healthcare organizations, governmental agencies, and nonprofit associations with creating a positive practice environment; leadership and board development; strategic planning; employee well-being; and enhancing value for their customers, members, and constituents. She has launched Nurse Capital, which provides venture capital for nurse entrepreneurs disrupting the healthcare industry with innovations in technology, devices and equipment, and clinical programs. She serves as a strategic advisor to several start-up healthcare companies, including Practicing Excellence, Mobella Health, MIDAS Healthcare Solutions, and Prolucent Health. She is a co-author of the blog, Calling the Leadership Circle.

Dr. Weston has served as a nurse executive in hospitals, the government, and, most recently, as the CEO of the American Nurses Association Enterprise. Her leadership in large-scale change and innovation transformed ANA into one of the fastest growing associations in membership and impact. Under her leadership, membership increased by over 40% and Forbes described ANA as “an increasingly politically powerful lobbying force in Washington and state capitals across the country.” Dr. Weston has overseen philanthropic and premier grants programs, securing multimillion dollars for various initiatives.

With her PhD in nursing and over 35 years in executive practice, she is sought out for her meeting facilitation, excellent public speaking, coaching and consultative approach, which enable organizations and individuals to integrate best practices, strategy, and innovation to produce substantive results. She speaks and publishes on professional governance; the future of healthcare; improving health, wellness, resilience, and joy in nursing; building high-performing teams; governance leadership; and transforming nursing for a postdigital era.

In 2012, she was inducted as a fellow in the American Academy of Nursing and has received numerous awards including being selected by Modern Healthcare as one of the Top 25 Women in Healthcare in 2017 due to her leadership skills and accomplishments in healthcare, mentorship of female health care executives, and her contributions to health care at the local, state and national levels.

UNITED STATES UNIVERSITY FEATURED STUDENT SPEAKER

Gia Cabrera

Gia is a dedicated educator from Upland, California, who recently earned her Master of Arts in Teaching – Multiple Subject Credential with Distinction from United States University. Gia's journey into education began during her undergraduate years at San Diego State University, where she worked at the SDSU Children's Center. She graduated with her Bachelor's degree in May of 2023 and immediately began her master's program that fall. With over 10 years of experience as a nanny and current work as a substitute teacher for 5 local school districts, Gia is dedicated to shaping the lives of children. Her goal for the upcoming year is to begin her career as a full-time elementary teacher and be able to call a classroom her home. Gia has always known she wanted to make a difference, she just wasn't sure how at first. Over time, she came to realize the incredible impact teachers have on the lives of their students. They don't just teach academics; they guide, empower, and help shape the future. That realization is what led her to pursue a career in education. When she's not teaching or nannying, Gia loves hanging out with her girlfriend, family, and friends, and traveling whenever she gets the chance. She's passionate about helping children grow, learn, and feel seen and she's so excited to bring that passion into her own classroom.

COMMENCEMENT REGALIA AND HONOR CORDS

Academic regalia (cap, gown, and hood) in the United States has been influenced by the academic dress traditions of Europe. This includes a long flowing gown, usually black, and sleeves that are indicative of the degree obtained. Master's level sleeves have pointed cuffs. Academic hoods have several components:

Shell: The shell material of the hood typically matches the robe. This is traditionally black.

Interior Lining: Typically satin, the interior indicates the colors of the institution from which the graduate received the degree. United States University's hoods have a red and blue interior lining.

Trim: The outer edge of the cowl is trimmed in velvet or velveteen. The color of the velvet/velveteen hood trimming is distinctive in the academic field and varies by major.

United States University's Hood Colors

Business Degree: Drab (light brown)

Education & Liberal Studies Degree: Light Blue

Health Sciences Degree: Sage Green

Nursing Degree: Apricot

Colorful honor cords have a tassel on each end, and they are worn around the honoree's neck, so that the strands hang down the graduation gown, signifying academic achievements. Honor cords recognize academic excellence achieved throughout the duration of a student's entire academic career. Eligibility for the three categories of undergraduate Latin Honors (Summa Cum Laude, Magna Cum Laude, & Cum Laude) is based on the cumulative grade point average for all coursework at United States University. Students are recognized at commencement with honors levels.

Summa Cum Laude - with highest honor - 3.80-4.00

Magna Cum Laude - with great honor - 3.65-3.79

Cum Laude - with honor - 3.50-3.64

Graduate students with a cumulative grade point average of 3.7 or above will be recognized and awarded the status of "With Distinction."
